CharterOak Acoustics Begins Shipping Custom Made Pop Filters

Enfield, Connecticut USA (March 7, 2007) CharterOak Acoustic Devices, manufacturers of hi-quality, hand assembled audio equipment announced a partnership with The Hook Studios of Los Angeles, CA, to manufacture its *PF-1 high performance pop filter.

The CharterOak *PF-1 Pop Filter outperforms other pop filters in three key areas. The SaatiTech Hypphobe Acoustex™ fiber used in the construction of the *PF-1 is extremely effective in repelling moisture, thus keeping damaging moisture away from the microphone capsule. Secondly, the B010Acoustex™ used in the *PF-1 will stop plosives without compromising the frequency response of the microphone. Standard Nylon pop filters are incapable of this level of performance. Lastly, the CharterOak *PF-1 is designed to eliminate the need for bulky mic-clip/gooseneck apparatuses as well as secondary mic-stands, as the *PF-1 comes attached to a Velcro™ strap which will fit most side-address large diaphragm microphones and makes the *PF-1 unobtrusive and easy to install.

Like all CharterOak products, the new *PF-1 Pop Filters are hand made from high quality components for CharterOak, and are designed for use with the SA538, SA538B and E700 models. Users can buy the new *PF-1 Pop Filters directly from CharterOak for a special introductory price. They will also be made available to new customers through the CharterOak dealer network after the AES Vienna show where they will be on display for the first time.
